64% of an american adults have less than 1000 doller in their saving acount. Because they buy alot of things they don't need it. So if you buy things with 500$ so you have only to use 250$. So if you go to KFC 2 times in week you have to go 4 times in a month. I was intrested in solving it because a lot of people are asking how to save your money and buy what you need.
